

Online communication, collaboration, communities, conferencing for development

by the development community,
for the common good

What we do

- We help you find, facilitate and manage online community spaces or platforms;
- We negotiate and broker preferential access for our partners to different community platforms;
- We support online communications, collaboration and dialogue that increase the effectiveness of our collective online experience;
- We promote links across our partner groups and communities, we connect you to like-minded communities and people doing the same collaborative things as you;
- And, through Dgroups, our online interactions can achieve more visibility, reach and impact.

Our mission

Dgroups provides simple, effective and affordable solutions, knowledge and expertise that supports online collaboration among organizations, projects, networks and campaigns, and individuals in international development.

What we stand for

By working together, better, more inclusive collaboration and dialogue leads to better development results.

Who is Dgroups for?

- ✓ Development organizations and institutions
- ✓ Projects and programs in development
- ✓ Development-oriented collectives, initiatives, campaigns, movements as well as individual champions
- ✓ Investors and enablers in development

How does it work?

Organizations or projects become partners, contributing to the core costs of the Foundation:

- EUR1000/year to 'supporter' organizations
- EUR 500/year for organizations and projects
- EUR 200/year to unfunded individuals or collaboratives/collectives matching our development mission
